Manufacturers of mercury-containing lamps are sponsoring a program in Maine to collect waste compact fluorescent lamps (waste CFLs) and waste, non-CFL, mercury containing lamps (waste mercury containing lamps) from "covered entities;" A "covered entity" is any person who presents: 1) any number of waste CFLs, or 2) 10 or fewer waste non-CFL, mercury-containing lamps, at participating municipal waste sites. Under this program, the sponsoring manufacturers are covering the cost of providing municipalities with waste lamp collection receptacles, transporting the waste lamps for proper disposal, and material recycling.

To participate in the Maine mercury-containing Lamp Recycling Program (the “Program”), the municipality (referred to herein as "Participant") must sign this Participation Agreement and return to the Program Administrator (the National Electrical Manufacturers Association) at the address shown on the next page.

The Participant certifies to the sponsoring manufacturers that collection location(s) meet the following criteria:

- The Participant accepts only the following from any one person at any one time: any number of mercury-containing CFLs and/or 10 or fewer waste non-CFL, mercury-containing lamps. The Participant has a system in place that segregates any non-CFL lamps received from any one person at any one time in excess of 10 ("excess lamps"). Alternatively, if the Participant commingles all lamps received, the Participant utilizes a system to document the number of excess lamps collected and agrees to pay for the costs of the shipping container or other mechanism for proper transportation and recycling of the excess lamps.
- Utilizes staff trained in the proper handling and storage of universal waste and emergency procedures in the event of a spill for tasks of accepting and processing waste lamps through this program.
- Complies with all applicable requirements of Maine’s universal waste law and regulations, including maintaining documentation of the training in accordance with state and/or federal universal waste rule.
- Maintains a permanent storage facility for lamp waste that is secure, weather tight and complies with all additional local, state, or federal regulations.
- Ensures that collection containers are located in an area inaccessible to the general public and ensures that all mercury-containing waste lamps will be accepted by staff to avoid improper handling and packaging for shipment.
- Takes reasonable steps to guard against incidental breakage of waste lamps.

In consideration of the sponsoring manufacturers providing the financial support for this Program and other good and valuable consideration, Participant agrees to indemnify, hold harmless, and defend the sponsoring manufacturers of mercury-containing lamps supporting this Program and the Program Administrator, their respective directors, officers, employees, representatives, successors and assigns, jointly and severally, from any demand, claim, liability, action, cause of action, lawsuit, loss, damage, injury, penalty, fine, expense, cost, injunction, settlement or judgment of any kind or nature ("liabilities"), whether such liabilities are contingent or mature, whether such liabilities are premised on a violation, breach, or failure to comply with any statute, ordinance, administrative regulation, or under theory of common law, at law or equity, asserted by any person, corporation or other entity, including any governmental entity, arising out of or connected with the Participant’s failure to comply with the criteria set forth above, or the errors or omissions, whether accidental or intentional, of the Participant, its employees, agents, or representatives prior to or while transferring the lamp waste for management and recycling under the Program, whether or not such liabilities occur or arise at the Participant’s premises. Additionally, the Participant agrees to the terms and conditions of Veolia ES in connection with using Veolia’s RecyclePak® containers under this Program (a copy of which is provided herewith).

By its signature below, the Participant agrees to the foregoing criteria and terms.
